

10 What is an example of direct provision by a government?

- A The government introduces a subsidy on renewable fuels to help the environment.
- B The government introduces a unit tax on cigarettes to discourage consumption.
- C The government sets a maximum rent on housing to protect tenants.
- D The government takes over a private library to improve local services.