

2 What is meant by the division of labour?

A A process is split into a series of individual tasks.

B Some workers work part-time and others work full-time.

C The same amount of output per hour is produced by each worker.

D Wages are divided equally between workers.