

29 A country with fixed exchange rates faces a surplus on its current account.

Which policy is most desirable to maintain the fixed exchange rate?

- A an increase in subsidies given to exporters
- B the imposition of trade barriers on the import of non-essential goods
- C the sale of foreign currencies in the foreign exchange market
- D the use of expansionary monetary policy