

28 Which statement about alloys is correct?

- A Alloys are harder than pure metals because they contain strong intermolecular forces.
- B Brass is an alloy containing mainly copper and tin.
- C The different-sized atoms in an alloy mean that the layers cannot easily slide over each other.
- D There are no alloys containing carbon because carbon is a non-metal.