5 A farm has an automated drinking system for its animals. The drinking system has a water bowl that contains the water. When the water bowl is empty, it is automatically refilled.

The system uses a sensor and a microprocessor.

(a) Identify the most appropriate sensor for this system.

..... [1]

(b) Describe how the sensor and the microprocessor are used to automatically refill the water bowl.

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

..... [6]