

4 Which person is most likely to make a microeconomic decision as part of their job?

A a government finance minister

B the global administrator of the Human Development Index

C the governor of the central bank

D the manager of a private sector firm