

13 How might a trade union increase its bargaining power?

A by expanding the market for the product

B by increasing the cost of union membership for workers

C by restricting the entry of workers to the industry

D by supporting wage claims in other industries