

28 An economy raises its tariffs on imported goods.

What is the most likely result?

A a fall in the rate of inflation

B an increase in consumer choice

C an increase in domestic production

D the current account of the balance of payments moves into a deficit